SUMMARY OF ST. LOUIS MARKETS.

Wheat made a slight advance and corn was sharply higher in yesterday's market. Trading was rather irregular and until near the end of the session it seemed as though the bears had both grains well in hand. Warm weather was the principal depressing intwence in wheat at the opening. Receipts were larger than on the corresponding day lisence in wheat at the opening. Receipts were larger than on the corresponding day last year, and the outside demand was moderate. The market was draggy, with little trading, except by scalpers, until noon, when the buil news began to come out: Good huying of corn in Chicago started the upward movement. Advices from portions of Kansas and Nebraska showed indications of frost, and the weather was reported extremely cold in the Northwest. Argentine shipments to Europe were said to be on the decrease. The export demand was fairly large, and it was stated that the local stocks in store would be materially decreased.

ould be materially decreased before the end of the week.

Receipts of corn were heavy and most of the legitimate indications were bearish. The tendency was downward until late in the session, when Chicago advanced and a report was circulated that buyers of No. 3 corn were refusing to accept grain which was not trictly up to the standard of the grade.

May wheat opened \60\%c off and closed \60\%c up.

Receipts of produce were good and prices were generally a trifle easier. Trading in local securities was again light, with tractions sharply on the down Yesterday's bank clearings were $7,601.919, balances $1,305,340. Discount rates were steady, between 5 and 6 per cent.

Spot cotton was quiet and unchanged in the local market.

CORN STRENGTHENS WHEAT AFTER A DULL OPENING.

WEATHER PROSPECTS RE GARDED AS BULLISH.

Foreign Markets Are Higher and Argentine Shipments Are on the Decline.

Corn was the strong spot of yesterday's local grain market. Fine strength of the coarse grain caused wheat to close at an advance after an easy opening. At the start the general warm weather was unfavorable to the buying side. Receipts were larger and there were few outside buying orders. No advance was recorded until orders. No advance was recorded until near the end of the session. Predictions of frost in Kanses and Nebraska, in addition to the strength of corn, caused a rise.

Advices as to the export demand and the prospect that a considerable portion of the stocks in store would be shipped out later in the week were buillish indications. May wheat opened 1/60/4c 60/4c 60/4

Statements that grading in this market was rather draggy early in the session, but later buying by Chicago manipulators caused an upward movement, despite heavy receipts here and at other primary points. A good cash demand and statements that grading in this market was to be raised caused a sharp advance at the close.
